After the grower meeting was held, follow-up landowner contact and farm visits occurred. Of the 15 growers that attended the meeting in June, we received contact information from nine farmers. We followed up with phone calls and program materials to all growers that we received contact information for. Follow-up site visits were conducted for three growers, and all expressed an interest in the program. After site visits were completed all three growers signed applications, with two proceeding to the contract phase.
